Fastest Allied Warships Scur Sea For Raiders

By WALLACE CARROLL
British United Press. Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin.
LONDON, Nov. 17.—There was a broad hint today that the biggest and fastest Allied warships were hunting for the German pocket battleships, Deutschland and Admiral Scheer.

The ministry of information, commenting on the cooperation of French and British navies in hunting U-boats and convoying merchant ships, said: "That two German pocket battleships which are at large have done little damage must be ascribed to their reluctance to risk action with French or British naval units."

The statement followed several days of rumors that the fastest battleships were under way. It was considered significant that it came at the same time the French ministry of information in Paris was announcing that "There is no reason to believe that the French navy's contribution to the Allied war effort may be reduced by the burden of the British navy but to make even more effective the Allies' command of the sea."

Officially, that was all that was said of the subject but it was taken for granted that the Allied navies would be doing their hunting as secretly as possible.

21 SUMMONED TO COURT FOR TRAFFIC LAWS

Bicycle Riders Checked Severely In Police Drive

Chief Constable A. G. Shute gave his approval for the issuance of 21 summonses Friday morning at the conclusion of the first day's drive by city police against persons violating traffic ordinances.

Fourteen persons, including one adult, will appear in police court on charges of riding bicycles after dark which were not equipped with the necessary lights. Three youths will appear for riding their cycles three abreast on a road.

Included in the list of approved summonses were two motorists, motorists for driving dangerously by speeding on city streets and one motorcycle for speeding. Another motorist is charged with operating an auto with inadequate brakes.

In order to gain information which he hopes will aid in making city streets safer, Chief Shute has written police heads at Winnipeg, Regina, Saskatoon and Vancouver asking them how they cope with traffic problems.

Dissension In German Army Circles Opens Rift In Nazi High Command

By A. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—There is great dissension between Adolf Hitler and the German high command over the conduct of the war, in opinion of military circles here.

"The military inactivity is evidence of that," a high military official declared. "The Germans simply do not know what to do, with the Nazi leaders demanding action and the army generals refusing to sacrifice their men."

From evidence gathered from all sources not only in France and neutral countries but from Germany itself, this conflict of opinion between Hitler and his generals becomes more apparent, it was stated.

Hitler and his foreign minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop, guaranteed to the German general staff that Poland could be subdued without war in the west involving Great Britain and France. But they were wrong. Now the army is telling Hitler they cannot reach Maginot line without sacrificing hundreds of thousands of men.

Did not have plans. The national characteristic of the Germans is to hit quickly but the blockade and Hitler's inability to gain any pronounced military success. They regard as an important factor of conquest, conquered Czechs, Poles and Austrians who have been massacred.

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 17.—If Adolf Hitler did not win in a large grey-walled room in London today he would have heard good news. The British government has pledged its resources, wealth, manpower and military might to defeat Hitler.

One after another the representatives of Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and India pledged the "last ounce" to the common war effort with Britain.

They interrupted discussions of economic, strategic and financial problems among themselves to greet a round of newswire correspondence.

Netherlands Plan To Evacuate 2,000,000 Women And Children

By CLIFFORD L. DAY
British United Press. Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin.

THE HAGUE, Netherlands, Nov. 17.—The government announced today, following collapse of the Dutch-Belgian peace appeal, completion of plans for evacuation of nearly 2,000,000 women and children from lowlands areas if any invasion threatens.

The Wielsen ship passages of the southwestern coast, dredged channels of the Schelde river, used by Dutch and Belgian shipping, were understood to have been closed but officials refused to discuss the action on the grounds the nations of military secrecy are involved.

Belgian shipping circles were disturbed by the closing of the Wielsen passages, forcing their vessels to use the more difficult Ostende channel into the North Sea, and multi-protest were raised during the day in the Belgian parliament at Brussels.

Belgian shipping circles were disturbed by the closing of the Wielsen passages, forcing their vessels to use the more difficult Ostende channel into the North Sea, and multi-protest were raised during the day in the Belgian parliament at Brussels.

An invasion of Holland, it was said, would leave Belgium virtually isolated as a supreme position because of the possibility that carriers for England are being shipped through Belgian ports and there are "certainly British ships in the same position."

Belgium, under such conditions, would be deprived of 80 per cent of her imports of raw materials and other goods, it was stated.

Minister of Interior Hendrik van Boegelen announced all details have been arranged for the evacuation of the low area and late will be issued to burgomasters in the affected regions, indicating the manner of removing civilian populations in event of an emergency.

secretary Lord Halifax that British chief war aim is the defeat of Nazi Germany.

Thus, on both sides of the fighting front, one of the judicial restraints that marked the opening phases of the conflict has been abandoned.

WAR SWERVES

The third month of the war has swept away the first of the alleged claims phrases such as "living space" and "security against aggression" and toward a more realistic but concrete battle between Germany and England such as might stir up greater determinations among the peoples for the protection of the world.

The result may—when and if bitterness intensifies sufficiently—mean an end to the illusion of military operations. The British and French already have made their track warships for instance, are searching the high seas in an effort to destroy the Nazi sea raiders, the pocket battleships, and the submarine fleet.

Aerial reconnaissance continued on both sides, and the British aircraft force in Labrador this morning—with every indication that preparation was being made for bombardment.

But except for patrol clashes, the actual fighting front remained comparatively quiet and the prospects appeared best for a much longer period of economic struggle until longer or shorter.

WAR AIMS
The war aims of each side have been defined with great points and counterpoints, but the British and French have indicated that they expect to win when they have liquidated the German economy.

GERMANY NOT INTERESTED IN ANY MEDIATION

Offer By President Roosevelt At This Time Would Be "Uninteresting"

By LOUIS F. LOCHNER
BERLIN, Nov. 17.—Austrian German source said today that President Roosevelt's offer of mediation at this time would be "uninteresting" so far as Germany is concerned.

France's rejection of Austrian mediation into the issue at stake in the war, thus, according to the source, the Allies regard all peace talks as futile.

However, President Roosevelt will ask both sides to discontinue war, and then to begin negotiations on a common basis for mediation.

NO STEP INDICATED
The President of the United States has indicated no intention of taking either step—either "general mediation" or asking the belligerents to outline their war aims.

CANUCK SHIP FIRES ACROSS BOW U.S. BOAT

Failure To Stop When Ordered Brings Quick Action By Vessel

SEATTLE, Nov. 17.—A United States ship captain reported on his arrival yesterday from an Alaskan port that a Canadian vessel had fired a shot across the bow of his ship, the North Coast, off Prince Rupert, B.C.

Capt. A. J. Berkland, master of the ship which carried 75 passenger and a crew of 75, said the incident occurred because the officer of the Canadian vessel thought the United States vessel did not stop quickly enough when ordered to do so.

Berkland explained he thought the Canadian vessel was the Northland Transportation Company's steamship moving to safety against groundswells but he stopped the ship immediately at the warning shot.

He added he had reported, upon departure from Juneau, that he was being followed by a Canadian vessel. When he arrived off Prince Rupert, he declared, he was hailed by a Canadian government vessel and asked what we were doing.

"When I told the officer I had reported to would arrive there, he ordered me to stop. I fired a shot across the bow of the ship and I brought her to a full stop."

It is believed that with the extra cost of providing auxiliary facilities for Great Britain, Australia and New Zealand, the total commitments at the end of the fiscal year will be many times that amount.

The Insurance Was Needed

It is surely a paradox that in the year when western Canada has produced the second largest crop of wheat in history an amount somewhere between $10,000,000 and $20,000,000 will have to be paid out of the Dominion treasury under the acre bonus plan to western farmers who have no crops at all or crops so light as to be practically worthless.

But the bitter paradox would be these thousands of farmers whose crops have failed would get no wages at all for their labor and no compensation for their wasted seed. This measure of crop insurance has not been long delayed in proving its worth. The only regret now is that a scheme of the kind was not established long ago.

Traced back to its ultimate bearing, the acre bonus plan is something more than a cold economic expedient to "keep farmers on their land." It is also a humanitarian measure that goes some way to sustain farm families in the cropless areas on a decent standard of living. And it maintains as well the self-respect of the dried-out farmer, since the money is not paid to him as charity but as public recognition of his debt to his part and is in no way to blame because he has nothing to sell.

Consolidation, Not Expansion

In his broadcast address Wednesday evening, Hon. J. G. Gardiner did not tell the farmers of western Canada that war money will make them rich, but he did give them what sounded like good advice, based on first-hand knowledge of the world food situation and backed by convincing figures as to the long term range of wheat prices.

The Minister warned definitely against an immediate expansion of wheat production in expectation that the phenomenal prices of the former war will return. On the contrary, Britain is concerned now about other products, chiefly cheese, bacon and eggs. The $50,000,000 of wheat exportable wheat now on hand is a reserve asset, which will come into use if and when the wheat fields in Europe are overrun by armies or left short of cultivators by the drafting of farm hands for war service. An eventuality which will not occur for some time, and may not occur at all.

The second piece of advice was that, instead of using the proceeds of wheat production to expand their operations, farmers should use the money to consolidate their positions—which may be taken to mean clearing off debts, equipping their farms, and otherwise preparing to meet after-war conditions without again going through the process of expansion which followed the collapse of the former war boom. An experience due largely to the fact that the legacy from the boom was a string of unpayable obligations.

If this is moderate and homely advice, it rings true to the lessons of post-war history, in which the first casualty of the farmer has taken a "hard killing."

What Price Life?

Edmonton is piling up a horrifying record of street fatalities this year, which is being matched by highway killings at outside points. It is high time to do some thinking about it—a good many things in fact.

There is need of more traffic lights at street intersections in downtown areas. There is need of better lighting of streets in other sections. There will have to be a tightening up of regulations and a strict enforcement of the rules, in town and out.

But back of all these aids to safety and measures of prevention, there will have to be a more general sense of traffic danger on the part of those using the streets and highways. Inattention, to use the mildest term, is the first cause of most street and road accidents, and the major factor in producing the resultant casualties, fatal and other.

It is easy to make up lists of "don'ts" for the guidance of pedestrians and drivers. But no list can cover all the conditions which arise when danger is present. Nor is a list, however comprehensive, of any use if the injunctions are not obeyed. And common sense, added to courtesy and a general understanding of traffic regulations, is a better guide than any schedule of specific rules of conduct.

The root cause of the street and road slaughter is that neither walkers nor drivers are taking this matter of safety as seriously as they should. And both are paying a heavy price for the neglect. When in doubt, play safe. That is the first of the commandments for those who value their own lives and those of other people.

After all, what's the hurry?

Such Rumors Are Dangerous

Echoes of the blast at Munich have taken the form of rumors that there is trouble in the Nazi camp, serious enough to portend an explosion of a different sort with fatal results to the Hitler regime. Among others, there have been reports that the former Crown Prince had been arrested, that General Blomberg had been arrested, that the stalling on the western front is due to refusal of the German military chiefs to launch a general offensive until they see what Stalin is up to.

Maybe there is truth in some of these tales. Maybe they are all true. Denials from Berlin are aside from the point, for these rumors are likely to be only statements considered advisable in the circumstances as to statements of fact.

That where smoke is so plentiful there is some fire is traditionally probable. But the reports originated outside Germany, and at best are based on information coming through underground channels. Wishful as Allied peoples may be that the Nazis have fallen out among themselves, or are threatened by growing and sharpening popular discontent, it will not do to count on them breaking into a party feud, or being overthrown by an uprising in the immediate future.

The danger of doing so is pointed by a despatch which says public meetings are to be held in London to revive interest in the war. That has a sinister significance. It recalls the "Business as usual" slogan which some donkey raised during the early years of the former war; and it does recall Britain time and money in delayed preparation.

For the people of Canada and every other Allied country, the "business" in hand is that of winning the war. Inaction on the fighting front, and rumors of a gathering storm in Germany, must not be allowed to obscure that fact or to sap official and public interest. Hitlerism isn't beaten yet, and there is no solid reason to think it will amount to anything except on the battlefield. The event may be out different—but that is the only safe assumption to go on.

Herr von Papen breaks his embarrassed silence at Istanbul to say Hitler's idea is to establish "European commonwealths." On the Reich pattern, it is to be supposed, sufficiently illustrated by a rationing system which allows two ounces of butter per week to each Hitler subject and one short per year. Common wealthiness would seem to be the proper term.

The new mill at St. Albert, belonging to Hutton and Maloney, is nearing completion. Most of the machinery is in. There are two sets of stone and a double set of rollers. The mill will be about 75 to 100 acres of flour per day, part of it being roller process.

Curling preparations are now being made for the winter season which is expected to start shortly.

A poll tax last is to be prepared by the town clerk and the tax collected by the constables. The new C.P.R. time-table provides for two express trains per week on the C. and E. and two mixed trains.

A company is now at work building a train grade from the head of Dyea inlet to the Chilkoop pass. The pass will be avoided by a tunnel.

The city councils of Edmonton and Strathcona are in deadlock over the question of Strathcona's contention to be out of the high level bridge. London: In a letter to the Times, Sir Charles Tupper urges Mr. Borden and his followers to respect the Laurier naval policy. His intervention in the issue is being questioned on the grounds of emotional procedure.

Twenty Years Ago

Ottawa: The Prince of Wales, on leaving Halifax, wired a farewell message to his comrades in Canada who served at the front in the war. His intervention in the issue is being questioned on the grounds of emotional procedure.

Ten Years Ago

Toronto: At the coming naval conference in London, Japan is expected to ask for a 10-10-7 ratio of cruisers armed with six-inch guns. Britain and the United States have the larger ratios. ### The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

At the time of writing, a feature of the war at sea, is the small toll reported from the German pocket battleships Deutschland and Admiral Scheer, officially reported to be at sea on raiding exploits. Craft of such size cannot keep the sea without obtaining supplies of food and fuel. Yet little is heard of their whereabouts of their activity. With wreck-the-RAIDERS: age coming ashore off Florida in the German raider, "Has the powerful craft, or driven into hiding by capturing or sinking their supply vessels?" Fast and formidable as they are, there are faster and more formidable vessels in the British Navy.

The naval intelligence service known as "O.B. 40" kept secret even from members of the British cabinet. It assuredly at work again receiving and decoding German messages. It even sent out messages in German code, bringing the German fleet to its doom off the Falkland Islands. Captain Franz von Rintelen, in charge of marine sabotage work in United States, was another victim of "O.B. 40," being recalled in German code and taken off the passenger vessel in the Channel.

Safe in DAVY JONES' LOCKER while the Kronprinz Wilhelm was sunk by the Leeward and others, was sent to the bottom, while Count Luckner's famous fleet, after a rolling campaign, picked up the German fleet on the Southern Pacific. The Mowse twice ran the British blockade successfully. Of her end I am uncertain.

The vessel that managed to keep the sea and regain port in Germany after a hectic raiding career that lasted for a year and half was the converted merchantman Wolf. Her story, told by Roy Alexander, a captured freighter of 4,000 tons, who spent eight months at sea on the vessel before being taken prisoner to Kiel, is now issued by the Yale University Press under the title "The Cruise of the Raider Wolf."

Captain Karl August Neugebauer asked his ship out of the Baltic and into the North Sea in November, 1818. Outwardly she was nothing more than a cargo ship, and inwardly she was a warship, plugging along at ten or eleven knots. Steaming up the Norwegian coast as if on peaceful business, she managed to run down a British merchant ship. Half a dozen other 3,500-ton ships were hidden on her decks. She carried in her hold a two-seater plane and a store of mines to blow up the enemy.

By February she was in the Indian Ocean, mining the entrance to Bombay. By May she had captured four ships—three of them destroyed and the fourth with a prize crew sent on a mine-laying expedition. All the Wolf accounted for sixteen ships, while the mines she sank took a lot of many more.

The most astonishing thing of the Wolf is that she was never once challenged. Captain Neugebauer with his lightning secret service, that none of his victims were allowed to call for help. Remember the seas were wide; two-thirds of the earth's surface are covered by water. As long as the Wolf was in the Indian Ocean, bringing his vessel back to Kiel, with all that were left of 400 prisoners after typhus, scurvy and beri-beri had taken their toll in the seven days' voyage. No obvious war-craft can hope for such luck.

Suffering makes for sympathy. A week ago the women came in from the court, and the judge ruled that the returning officer had erred and that Hogg was legally elected.

Current Comment

The Catholic Church and Hitler

According to a report published in the London Daily Sketch, Adolf Hitler will dissolve the Roman Catholic Church in Germany before the end of the year and proclaim himself chief of the German National Church.

This report, made as it may seem to some (there are over 30,000,000 Catholics in the German Reich), is by no means improbable. It certainly will not seem improbable to those who have read that remarkable book, "The Catholic Church and German National Socialism." It will seem even more probable to those who have read the writings of Rosenberg and some of the other major figures within the Nazi philosophy. These men, the shock troops of the Nazi ideology, are first and last all the time anti-Christian. Their God is a German God, a God who speaks to Germans through "blood and soil" rejecting everything in the Scriptures. That is why all through its story, the Nazi movement has warred not merely on Jews, but equally on Protestants and Catholics.

It may seem incredible that Hitler, desperately anxious to maintain the morale of his people and to buttress their support, should want to destroy the church of millions of Germans. Yet when the gods would destroy them they first make mad—Odin's Journal.

On the Right Track

The letter was sent to the Manitoba Association of the Boy Scouts of America from the little community of Blisset in Manitoba and it was signed by leaders of the small band of Scouts there. All this is of small importance; but it is the signatures that count. Peter Kimmelin, Erling Larsen, Paul Nieminen, Richard Wegio, Roland Wynne, Stanley Rosinski and John "Mac" Macdonald.

These youthful New Canadians merely wished to "reaffirm our loyalty to our King, George VI, and to our Chief Scout of Canada, Lord Tweedsmuir."

Though "with slight inattention in the world," they wish to make plain to the leaders of nations that war is contrary to the ideals for which our organization stands; but that we would state clearly to Herr Hitler and to the leaders of other totalitarian States that we, the youth of our organization, have certain rights and liberties, and will do our utmost to preserve them and foster them in others. "This 'meat' must not be world shaking, but it indicates the thoughts stirring in the minds of young Canadians of foreign extraction. It indicates that they are imbibing the Canadian spirit. Also it provides further evidence of the good influence exerted by the Boy Scout movement. The letter concludes: 'We earnestly hope that the world will be a better place, a place of peace, and that the youth of the world will be brought to a better understanding of each other and of the world in which they live.'"

The "New West" is gradually getting old. Just imagine the city of Calgary is 55 years old today. It was on Nov. 17, 1884, that the North-West Mounted Police, J. H. Milverton, L. P. Preece, C. Clarke and J. S. Douglas members of council. Most of these had come from Ontario and were well acquainted with the municipal machinery in this province.

Election day was made a half-holiday; the contest was keen but without bad feeling. There was a tie between Hogg and Hogg. Hogg was given to Hogg, and the returning officer (Elliot) refused to declare him elected. Hogg was given privilege of counting his own votes, and when Mr. Murdoch and the council met in the rear of Clarke's saloon his own hands, when the returning officer left the room in high dudgeon. The matter was referred to the courts, but the judge ruled that the returning officer had erred and that Hogg was legally elected.

A LINK WITH THE PAST I am not a worshiper of sacred sites; for spiritual reality transcends time. But I confess to having been moved one morning when I attempted to stand a group of the founding fathers, on the very site of the church which Queen Helena entered in the fourth century, to commemorate the death of the Virgin Mary. I was struck by the fact that Jesus had been born in the same place, and that the same place had been the scene of the Crucifixion. # INITIAL PRICE FOR WHEAT IS ASKED RAISED urging adjustment of initial prices guaranteed by the Dominion government on wheat grades lower than No. 1, was passed by the board at the closing session of the United Grain Growers Limited.

Winnipeg, Nov. 17.—A resolution

The guaranteed initial price for No. 1 wheat was raised from 80¢ to 81¢ per bushel, and prices for lower grades are graduated downward. The netting continued to show a profit on the lower grades but greater than spreads prevailing on the market by amounts varying from one cent to 15 cents a bushel.

A tentative plan for dividing the company's stock into two classes to promote wider holding among company shareholders was discussed and approved by the board. The plan is to issue a new class of shares to the company's shareholders at a price of $100 per share, and to issue a new class of shares to the company's shareholders at a price of $100 per share.

U.S. Horse Race Betting Heavily Hit by Wire Ban

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—The horse race betting market in United States crashed Thursday.

From many cities came reports wagering in handbooks was off from 25 to 90 per cent. But from many others came advice that bookmakers, hardly permissives of the gaming trade, were operating despite difficulty in obtaining prompt information from the tracks.

Second Period Rally Gives Edmonton Win

SASKATON, Nov. 17.—Edmonton Athletic Club, western Canada junior hockey champions, squared their record with Saskatoon Dodgers with a 4-2 victory here last night. Dodgers won the opening game of the home-and-home series 5-4 at Edmonton last Friday.

Dodgers, playing without their top line, Harry Walton, who is suffering from an attack of the "flu," managed to keep their more experienced opponents in check until the second period when Jack Simpson scored on a pass from "Doc" Young to send E.A.C. into the lead. The Albertans closed their victory with a third period goal while holding the Dodgers scoreless.

PLEASING GAME

The game, which attracted slightly more than 1,000 fans, provided plenty of pleasing hockey. The youngsters tore into each other from the drop of the puck until the final whistle with no questions asked.

Parallels played an important part in the scoring. Dodgers scored the only goal of the first period while Ken Heron was the penalty box. Hawkins was the manman on a pass from Edie Walton. E.A.C. evened the count early in the second period when Willie Schmidt was in the cooler for dumping Heron. Elmer "The Shadow" Keller barged his counter off a neat pass from Frank Chad. The teams were at full strength when Tony Lewicki scored through the Edmonton defense five minutes later to send the team back into the lead for the last time.

EASTWOOD WINS SENIOR HIGH FOOTBALL TITLE

Two Fumbles Bring Defeat For Separate

CAPITALIZING on two fumbles, Eastwood defeated Separate 10-0 on a muddy field at Separate on Thursday afternoon to win the Edmonton high school senior football championship.

After a scoreless first quarter that saw play saw-saw up and down the field fairly evenly, Jackson fell on a loose ball behind the Separate line for the first touchdown. The convert attempt failed.

GOLAB GREAT KICKER BUT HE LIKES TO RUN

OTTAWA, Nov. 17.—One of these days Tony Golab may change his mind and decide kicking is fun and then Coach Ross Tremble and Ottawa Rough Riders are going to have a bundle of football dynamite that can explode in every direction.

As it is at this moment Golab is a full-time kicker for the Ottawa Rough Riders. He is a kicker but only when he wants to be. He doesn't care about kicking in regular Big Four games.

"Why kick the ball away when you can take it and make some money out of it?" he said last night during the Riders' triumph over the "Carleton Place" team.

In his first season in the Big Four is a Rough Rider Golab was

In the third period, Eastwood had a slight advantage in territorial play, but was unable to push through a stubborn Separate line for any points.

Five minutes after the start of the first quarter, Separate attempted to kick from its own twenty-five line. The ball struck a Separate man and Ferguson of Eastwood fell on it for the second touchdown.

The convert was not made.

Eastwood: Jackson, Ferguson, R. H. Parag, Gordon, Hill, Hays, Goss, Mullin, Korkos, McCallister.

Separate: McDermott, McFarlane, Russell, Wilson, Scholander, Taylor, McDermott, Babb, Brennan, Rutter, McKelvie.

Officials: Clarkson, Richards and Bob Eby.

SOCCER CLUBS PLAN SUPPORT OF RED CROSS

Unofficial International Matches Planned; To Raise $222,500

LONDON, Nov. 17.—English football authorities hope to raise £20,000 ($222,500) for the British Red Cross. A series of unofficial international matches is being played and other representative contests will be arranged later.

To date £2,000 ($22,500) has been realized and this sum will be augmented Saturday when England and Wales meet in a return encounter at Wrexham. Teams representing the two countries drew 1-1 at Cardiff, Nov. 11.

W. R. Johns, veteran Swansea Town goalkeeper, announced his retirement from the game at the weekend end and his place on the Welsh eleven will be taken by A. Sidlow, Wolverhampton Wanderers reserve goalkeeper. There will be one or two other changes in the Welsh team.

The eleven London club players who representing England at Cardiff will be replaced by men from northern and midland teams in order to save travelling expenses.

"South" clubs will be regrouped when the present schedule is completed. The Football League now proposes that first and second division teams in South "A" and South "B" divisions should form one league and third division clubs represent the two groups a separate division.

New Backfielders Replace Old Guard As East Selects All-Star Grid Team

TORONTO, Nov. 17.—New backfield stars replaced the old as coaches and sports writers looked over the field today and named the Interprovincial Rugby Football Union all-star team of 1939.

Only Bob Kistner, who has switched from Toronto Argonauts to Hamilton Tigers, in the meantime, remained from the backfielders selected to the dream team last year.

Fourteen writers and coaches to Big Four cities, Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa and Winnipeg, named the new Hamilton representative, and Bill "Barty" Davies the new Montreal player.

The new Montreal player, Davies, was named to replace the late Bill "Barty" Davies, who was killed in a car crash last Saturday morning.

NELS STEWART KNOWS NOTHING ABOUT RINGER

BALTIMORE, Nov. 17.—Nels Stewart said last night he knew nothing about his supposed friend, Snake Signal, being a "ringer" in a couple of almost forgotten races.

Stewart, who was in the racing office at the time, said he knew nothing about the matter.

Strikers Wheel, Picket Steel

There's free wheeling in the picket line as girls strap on roller skates to patrol before a steel works plant in Toronto. Five hundred employees struck for increased wages and CIO union recognition.

Doleful Leopold, Anti-Jazz Wilhelmina

WHEN doleful King Leopold of the Belgians teamed with Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands in the latest bid for world peace, it wasn't the first time the two crowns have been linked in news.

Once before—while Princess Juliana of Holland still was looking for her prince charming—the wires buzzed with reports that Leopold would be the groom. The news died down, Juliana married her German prince and Leopold became a monarch of equal rank with Juliana's mother, not a son-in-law.

Leopold, a man of 37 sobered by two tragedies—the death of his father in a mountain climbing accident in 1904 and of his wife, killed in an auto crash in 1935—is strictly a family man. When, on a trip to London in 1937, he went parading with a beautiful but unidentified bird, it was as unusual that the magazine made much of it.

He rarely smiles, they say, since Queen Astrid was killed. But when the king was asked about his solemn mien, he laughed out loud.

His taste of war came early—he was only 13 when he persuaded his father that he should be enlisted as a private in the Belgian army, then locked in the World War. Of course, he saw only as much of war as the under-age son of a reigning monarch should see, but it was something.

Leopold's conquest of Swedish Princess Astrid—announced at the time by his father as a "marriage of inclination"—was built partly on a foundation of coyness, as the court gossip goes. She helped prepare him a meal and won herself a husband.

After his marriage he had his shy.

Queen-Mother Elizabeth helps him with his three children. Every night he goes with them to the nursery for prayers and a good-night kiss.

King Leopold

Q U E E N W I L H E L M I N A of the Netherlands, only woman who rules a kingdom today, from was at her door for the second time in her 41-year reign.

The Dutch Queen has lived two lives since that day in 1890 when, as a girl of 18, she ascended the throne. Religious and studious Queen Wilhelmina has never known any other than the remote world of the court.

Lonely and isolated, more so since the death of her prince-consort and the marriage of her daughter, she spends much time at home sewing or reading. She takes her carriage drive regularly at 4 each day, but always in the privacy of her own park.

Her recreation lying for ridiculous beds is not reflected in her character. Short, full and beamy, she has the blue eyes, heavy upper lip and the profile of circular cheeks and chin that is the essence of everything Dutch. Here is a queenly carriage, on the Victorian style. She loves jewelry, beside one of the finest collections of diamonds in Europe.

THOUGH she professes no great liking for music, she can play and sing. She paints in water colors, and occasionally indulges in outdoor sports like bicycle riding or hiking in the royal park. She plays tennis, a fond of dogs, and, as befits a Dutch Queen, she skates.

In her private life, she is currently fighting the trends of the past age brought into her stand court by her daughter's following consort, Prince Bernhard. There she is able to forgive, for both of two granddaughters has married Queen Wilhelmina that the lineage of the House of Orange that has ruled Holland for centuries, will continue—and on the female side.

Love Wins Out A Bit Late

After trying two and a half years to find a way to marry, Lloyd Vernon Clark, skilled plasterer, gave up and took pains. As he lay near death in Chattanooga, Tenn. hospital, he was married to Margaret Ellington. In the girl he wanted to work and live for. They are shown at the marriage ceremony.

Fighting A New Naval Foe: Gas

A common sight in cities on the home front, but an odd one aboard a battleship in this scene on a Soviet war vessel. Rehearsing chemical warfare defense, a "decontamination squad" of sailors in anti-gas uniforms sprinkles gas-nullifying chemicals over the deck.

Gas Shortage Brings Out Family Bike

The family supplies the motive power for this novel contraption, designed by a Milan engineer as a way for getting places despite shortage of automobile fuel. The vehicle is equipped with chain drive and all gears, except the youngest member of the family in front, contribute muscle power.

You Can't Beat This Spirit

Stricken by restrictions which prevented racing during wartime British sport lovers have managed to gain a relaxation of regulations on behalf of their beloved racing. So here is Miss V. Bullock, riding home the winner of the historic Town Plate race at Newmarket. Controversy was the winner, and the French horse was victor in the Cesarewitch last year.

Their Majesties Do Their Bit

New Twist

Haven't a broken chin, however make fine calumny and baby over-the-topness and for the traditional ones in her hair, and mould as soulless Gladys Swarthout, the famous actress, Carmichael, husband, at Ontario Park N.Y. She will play the role of the leading, elegant factory worker during the coming opera season.

High, Sweet Chariot Strawberries In Victoria

This brother and sister, the inventor, designer, builder and tester in the cockpit. The aged man in a dream to fly as that would listen to his preaching.

While chilly blasts and leaf-shedding trees mark the approach of winter in eastern Canada, horticultural-minded British Columbians on the west coast are picking fine, fat, full-flavored strawberries from thick beds. This picture taken recently in the garden of Mrs. Rudolph Olsen, Victoria, shows Miss Laurel Lawrence with some of the luscious berries the garden has been producing. Golf, tennis, swimming and riding are among the recreations available to visitors all winter long, and inquiries at Canadian Pacific office and reservations at the Empress hotel indicate that Canadians in large numbers are coming to the west coast for holidays.

Barred

Mrs. Erich Maria Bernagow, wife of the author of "All Quiet on the Western Front", is facing deportation on Ellis Island after a special board of inquiry ordered her excluded from the U.S. According to an immigration official, there is "very serious question as to the safety of her passport."

Dutch Village Scene of Border Incident

This is a street scene in Venlo, a little village on the German-Dutch border, where unconfirmed reports state that two persons were shot and several others carried into Germany after the shooting. The incident was reported to have occurred when a German automobile stopped at the border and its occupants walked into The Netherlands and engaged in a gun battle with the occupants of a Netherlands car. The posts in the center of the street mark the border with German territory to the right and Dutch territory to the left. This picture was transmitted by photograph from New York.
